June in the Serbian Orthodox Soul: After the Feast, the Living Begins

There is a quiet shift that happens in June. The great feast of Duhovi has passed, the Church has been filled with the fragrance of greenery and prayer, and now something deeper begins – not outward celebration, but inward cultivation. This is where faith becomes personal again.

A Time to Continue What Was Given

The descent of the Holy Spirit is not meant to be remembered for a single day. It is meant to be lived. In Serbian Orthodox life, the days following Pentecost are not a conclusion – they are a beginning. The question gently placed before us is: What will I do with what I have received?

Grace is given freely, and it asks for participation.

All Saints: Holiness Is the Path

Shortly after comes All Saints Sunday, a feast that brings us back to earth in the most beautiful way. It reminds us that holiness is not distant.

It is lived:

- In patience within the home
- In restraint in moments of frustration
- In quiet prayer when no one sees
- In choosing peace over reaction

The Saints were not perfect people – they were faithful people ... and that path remains open to us.

The Apostles' Fast: Faith in the Ordinary (June 8 start)

June also carries the beginning of the Apostles' Fast, a quieter fasting period that often goes unnoticed and perhaps that is its gift.

It is not as intense as Great Lent. It does not demand dramatic change. Instead, it invites consistency. A little more prayer ... A little more awareness ... A little more discipline. This is where faith is strengthened – not in grand gestures, instead, in daily return.

Vidovdan: Remembering Who We Are

As the month draws toward its end, Serbian tradition anchors itself in Vidovdan. This is a day that carries both history and soul.

It commemorates the Battle of Kosovo and the sacrifice of Prince Lazar of Serbia, who chose the eternal over the temporary. Vidovdan is not only about the past. It asks something very present: What do we choose when faith and comfort stand side by side?

It is a day of remembrance – and also identity.

EDITOR'S NOTE

DEADLINE is on 20th of the month prior to publishing.

The Spiritual Meaning of June

June teaches us something subtle and essential: Faith is not only found in great feasts. It is formed in what comes after.

Like the earth in early summer:

- Roots deepen beneath the surface
- Growth happens quietly
- What was planted begins to take shape

This is the work of the soul now.

A Simple Invitation for This Month

You do not need to do more. You only need to stay connected.

Light a candle in the evening.

Say a short prayer in the morning.

Step outside and notice God's creation.

Practice restraint in one small area.

Remember your faith is alive – even in quiet seasons.

Reflection ...

June in the Serbian Orthodox life is steady. It does not demand perfection.

It simply invites you to continue.

To take what was given ...

To live it gently ...

And to let it grow.

Because in this quiet season, something sacred is still unfolding.

When people are empty of Christ, a thousand and one other things come and fill them up: jealousies, hatreds, boredom, melancholy, resentment, a worldly outlook, worldly pleasures. Try to fill your soul with Christ so that it's not empty.

spiritual dashes ... Christian Faith

"You are from below, I am from above; you are of this world, I am not of this world" (John 8:23)

Christian faith is Christ's knowledge of the most important secrets of being and life. People can receive this knowledge only by believing in Him, not by their own efforts. The most important secrets about being and life, about which only Christ has real knowledge, are:

1. the secret about invisible things: about God, about angels, about the human soul; the secret of the creation of the world and its end;
2. the secret of God's constant guidance of man and humanity to a certain goal, and according to His wisdom and power;
3. the secret of man's fall from sin and his salvation through the Incarnation;
4. the secret about the Kingdom of God, as the ultimate goal of man's earthly life and about the right path that leads to that goal, i.e. about man's behavior towards himself, towards his neighbor and towards God;
5. secret about the resurrection from the dead, about the last judgment and about eternal life.

Some other religious teachers, thinkers and philosophers tried to explain these secrets, but they did so only with their limited human strength, thinking and persistent study of the world and human nature. All their attempts ended with assumptions and different theories, often contradicting each other.

The superiority of Christ's knowledge over theirs consists in the superiority of Christ as an eyewitness. He testifies: "I speak what I have seen" (Jn. 8:36), and again "No one has ascended to heaven except the One who comes down from heaven, the Son of Man who is in heaven" (Jn. 3:13). To the religious teachers of his time, He said: "You are from below, I am from above; you are of this world, I am not of this world" (John 8:23). He said to the elders in Israel: "Truly, truly, I say to you that what we know we speak, what we have seen we testify" (Jn. 3:11). And again: "I am the bread that came down from heaven" (John 6:41). And many others from that area He spoke with the authority of an eyewitness about all the secrets of heaven and earth, so that people admired His teaching, because "never has a man spoken like this man" (Jn. 7:46).

Indeed, even in everyday life, we trust an eyewitness more than a theoretician or philosopher. But there were other religious teachers who claimed to have received their teachings from certain angels. Angels are also eyewitnesses of great secrets. What should we think about that?

It is true that sometimes God sent his angels to certain people to teach them and to guide them. But people often experienced false visions, i.e. evil spirits depicted in the form of angels. Besides, Christ's case is quite different. He was not taught or guided by angels. On the contrary, He commanded the angelic armies and cast out evil spirits from people. Angels served Him, and demons feared Him.

The Christian faith could not even be compared with other religions and, strictly speaking, it should not even be called "religion", in the pagan sense of the word, because it is not one religion among other religions, it is faith in Christ and in Christ's Revelation. . It is a personal, unique and complete revelation of God to people for their enlightenment and salvation. Another revelation from God will no longer be given, and besides Jesus Christ, another Messiah cannot be expected until the end of the world.

Modern attempts to equate the Christian faith with all other religions are wrong and a dangerous experiment. Because "God cannot be deceived" (Gal. 6:7), nor can the blood of the Son of God be compared to the ink of a scribe. Although we as members of the old Eastern Church are condescending to every human being, we are strictly forbidden to compare the revealed truth given to us by God with religions and philosophies created by men.

In the first place, we should fight against attempts of such equalization by deepening our knowledge about our Orthodox faith, by practicing faith in everyday life, by delving into it, as a scientist deepens a discovered fact. Secondly, by noble and wise efforts - never by force - that people rise from the lowest and lowest levels of belief towards the height of our modern faith, instead of the perfect descending and meat with the imperfect for some pleasure.

We call our faith living faith because faith and life are inseparably connected, as cause and effect. The Lord Jesus Christ said: "He who believes in the Son has eternal life, and he who disobeys the Son will not see life, but the wrath of God remains on him" (John 3:36). It is also said: "The righteous shall live by faith" (Hebrews 10:38).

Sveti Knez Lazar - Vidovdan 28.Jun.2026

28. juna pravoslavna crkva i njeni vernici proslavljaju Vidovdan, poznat kao datum kad je održana Kosovska bitka i praznik svetog mučenika Vida i Lazara Hrebeljanovića.

Car Lazar Hrebeljanović dao je sebi titulu gospodara svih Srba, a vladarsko ime bilo mu je Stefan. Zahvaljujući njemu crkvena anatema skinuta je sa Srbije kada je carigradski patrijarh Flotej poslao jermonahe Marka i Mateja da to svečano urade, te je 1375. godine izabran prvi srpski patrijarh. Knez Lazar je uspeo da pomiri Pečku i Carigradsku patrijaršiju, koje su bile u lošim odnosima od krunisanja Dušana Silnog za cara. Čin je obavljen u Peči u prisustvu ne samo crkvenih velikodostojnika, već i velikog broja velmoža.

Na Vidovdan, 28. juna 1389. godine, odigrala se bitka na Kosovu, kada je srpska država branila od Turaka južnu granicu svoje teritorije. U toj bici caru Lazaru je odrubljena glava. Kako bi se nakon bitke sklopio mir sa Turskom koja bi dozvolila i prenošenje Lazarevih moštiju, njegova ćerka Olivera morala je da ode u harem Bajazita I 1390. godine.

Godinu dana kasnije, njegove mošti prenesene su u njegovu zadužbinu, manastir Ravanicu. Zbog toga što se najvažniji događaj u srpskoj istoriji u minulih šest vekova, Kosovski boj, odigrao na Vidovdan godine, prepliću se istorija, narodni običaji i verovanja, pa se kosovski mit, kao najrazgovetniji znak srpske narodne svesti, razvijao uporedo s paganskim kultovima starog slovenskog božanstva Vida.

Vid je smatran vrhovnim božanstvom, "Bogom nad bogovima", a svi drugi bogovi tek polubogovima.

Verovalo se da je Vid svevideće božanstvo, pa se Vidovdan smatra i praznikom za oči, odnosno praznikom koji "otvara oči".

Slava Sveti Knez Lazar - Vidovdan se slavi sa posnom trpezom jer "pada" u vreme Petrovdanskog posta. (381info.com informacija je sve!)
